

One Love Global

Transforming communities so Black children experience justice, peace, healing, opportunity, and abundance.

In the aftermath of elections, we have been awash in frustration, sadness, hurt, disappointment, numbness, and exhaustion. We acknowledge it is important to feel it all and to take a moment to breathe, reflect, and find solace in the community.

One Love Global's values are unwavering, as is our commitment to transforming communities so Black children experience justice, peace, healing, opportunity, and abundance.

We are not just dreaming of a beloved community; we are forging it into existence.

Our vision extends beyond borders—toward global liberation and reparations—where Black people experience radical love of self, community, and planet.

There is significant work ahead, and we know how important it will be to come together, pace ourselves, and move strategically and proactively.

Community organizing will be more important than ever due to the numerous impending threats to human rights and democracy. This includes countering the threats posed by Project 2025 while championing BREATHE-inspired policies that honor and uplift our communities.

Grassroots organizing and movements hold great power to push back on harmful policies and practices. Through transformative spaces like our Freedom Summer Youth Organizing School and the Lansing People's Assembly, we are dedicated to political education that includes solid understanding of truth in history, government, power analyses, and organizing.

Further, the election results have shown yet again the bias this nation holds against Black women in leadership, and we remain committed to ensuring Black women have the platforms and resources they deserve, for they are the heartbeat of our movement.

The journey toward justice, healing, and repair is long, but we know we are not alone.

Your support is crucial as we continue to expand our organizing efforts and confront the challenges that threaten our communities and democracy. Every contribution—no matter the size—fuels our collective power and fortifies our resolve. Donate to support our work >>

Together, we will rise and resist. Remember: love is a radical, brave, political act. Our joy is rebellion. Our community is where we draw strength and how we keep us safe.

In love and solidarity.
